

Data Protection Declaration

dattox-organisation

We use your inventory data exclusively to process your order. All customer data are stored by us allowing for the pertinent regulations of the Federal Data Protection Acts (BDSG) and the Tele Services Data Protection Act (TDDSG).

You have a right to free disclosure, correction, barring and deletion of your stored data at all times. Please contact info@dattox.de or send us your request by post or fax.

We will not forward your personal data including your postal address and e-mail address to third parties without your express consent, which may be cancelled at any time.

Our service partners requiring the transmission of data for handling the order (e.g. the company appointed to carry out delivery and the bank appointed to handle payments) are excluded from this. In these cases, however, the extent of the transmitted data is restricted to the required minimum.

We employ technical and organisational safety measures to protect your data managed by us against random or wilful manipulation, loss and destruction or against access by unauthorised persons. Payment data are encrypted when transmitted – degree of encryption 128 bit SSL.
